

① Bjørn Nørgaard, Skyggen, Rejsekammeraten og Improvisatoren – et treenigt portræt af H.C. Andersen (2005) → Banegårdspladsen
② Eva Koch, Ninu (1993) → Kongens Have ③ Gerhard Henningsen, Danaë (1928) → Kongens Have
④ Mogens Møller, Hermes (2002) → Kongensgade by Vestre Stationsvej. ⑤ Miss Take, Girl and Panther (2012) → Brandts Torv 1

⑥ Keld Moseholm, Kejserens nye Klæder (1988) → Brandts Passage 10 ⑦ Svend Wiig Hansen, Oceania (1992) → Flakhaven 2 ⑧ Anita Jørgensen, Auroraholes (2016) → Byens Bro at Østre Stationsvej 39 ⑨ ROA, Street Art på kornisol (2015) → Finlandskej ⑩ Ingvar Cronhammar, Camp Fire (1993) → Stige Ø, Østre Kanalvej

Bike Art

Odense is full of art – Art Museum Brandts have chosen 10 sites not to be missed on this route to contemporary public art in Odense. The city has everything from street art to fairytale sculptures and a light-based artwork over the railway. Have a nice trip!

Remember to keep distance during COVID-19 both on bike and near the artworks.

① Bjørn Nørgaard, Skyggen, Rejsekammeraten og Improvisatoren – et treenigt portræt af H.C. Andersen (2005). Three times H.C. Andersen. → Banegårdspladsen.

② Eva Koch, Ninu (1993). Nine times now. → Kongens Have.

③ Gerhard Henningsen, Danaë (1928). Danaë in ecstasy. → Kongens Have.

④ Mogens Møller, Hermes (2002). Hermes and a magnified viking jewelry. → Kongensgade by Vestre Stationsvej.

⑤ Miss Take, Girl and Panther (2012). Mural in the city center. → Brandts Torv 1.

⑥ Keld Moseholm, Kejserens nye Klæder (1988). A fairytale in stone. → Brandts Passage 10.

⑦ Svend Wiig Hansen, Oceania (1992). In praise of women. → Flakhaven 2.

⑧ Anita Jørgensen, Auroraholes (2016). Light under the bridge . → Byens Bro at Østre Stationsvej 39.

⑨ ROA, Street Art på kornisol (2015). Street art in the industrial quarter. → Finlandskaj.

⑩ Ingvar Cronhammar, Camp Fire (1993). Street art in the industrial quarter. → Stige Ø, Østre Kanalvej.